New Outdoor Column Will Begin Friday

The News-Star — World will present a new outdoor column beginning Friday that will give Northeast Louisiana fishermen the latest reports on the area's lakes and streams.

Gathered by area correspondents and active sportsmen, the column will be written by staffer Sam Hanna. His regular Thursday afternoon column, "Rod and Gun," will appear no longer.

'Comin' Up Afield," the World's mainline outdoor column that Hanna has written for almost five years, will appear in the Sunday World with pictures and additional outdoor coverage

Fishermen should watch for the new column, "The Fish-erman's Corner," beginning Friday in both the News-Star and the Morning World, while sportsmen in general will be interested in the Sunday 'Comin' Up Afield.'

Westbrook Pegler, whose column appears

Be phone
2-4290 b three times a week on this page, is going to speak at this year's annual banquet of the West Monroe Chamber of Commerce.

> The occasion is slated for March 20, with final arrangements still in the works. For those who are not fully acquainted with the Pegler style, this editorial may serve as an introduction.

In his column today, for example, a casual reader might think he is trying to say that there are people who fear Franklin D. A Bu Roosevelt is still alive. But those initiated in the Pegler manner realize he is still at war with the faction of the U.S. electorate which praised a regime that sought to abuse our system of government. Pegler writes often on this subject.

And in his disclosures about the question, "Who was the lady with Roosevelt when he COLORET died?" writer Pegler manages to state positively that he could find no ulterior motives. But in building this account, Pegler leaves little doubt that the late President, in his opinion, was idolized for no good reason.

> He questions those who think Roosevelt might be still alive and compares them to the skeptics who can't believe the nazi chancellor of Germany, Adolf Hitler, died in Berlin at the end of World War II.

Again he points to facts which remove doubts. There was a doctor present to issue (29) H a legal certificate in the case of the late Unwittingly that's the impression American President. There was no such legal functioning in the Berlin bunker.

But it is Pegler's stirring spoon rather cre than the broth he has on the fire which transmits his observations for all to ponder. He doesn't hate individuals so much as he wishes to warn against the abuses of what remain of our constitutional processes. In the world of have taken a cue from him and Pegler, tin gods and those who worship them have stretched their activities beare not highly esteemed.

Though the column today doesn't deal with another favorite Pegler topic, labor rackets, this is but another verse in the same song. Here again, the columnist has hammered away for years at a double-barreled abuse of the and television stations with a posrepublican form of government. He points to political intrigue between the labor bosses and the political machines and the huge, unaudited slush funds collected from the working people.

For a long time, writer Pegler, now a resident of Tucson, Arizona, has fired verbal tary assembles in a private meethis abuse of the "right to organize." ing the secretaries of members Many of his blasts hit the mark immediately; others seem to be hooked to a delay fuse. Master Spy Swapped For Confused Pilot

Perhaps the general public will never know the wire-pulling behind the scenes which H made possible the exchange of Russian spy Colonel Rudolf Abel, for U-2 pilot Francis Gary Powers.

But former Assistant Attorney General William F. Tompkins, who prosecuted Abel, said the swap was "like trading Mickey Mantle for an average ball player." In other words, we released an extremely capable spy to the Soviet Union.

In return, we received a puzzle. There is nothing in the Powers account which make him a hero, martyr or patriot. Given the opportunity to serve his country and the rest of the free world, he still considered himself-from the tone of his testimony-a highly paid technician.

He could have destroyed his high-altitude airplane when he realized he would have to the State Legislature for personal land inside Russia. He did not.

At his Russian trial, Powers said he simply "followed a map, turned switches and pressed buttons as marked on the map." He said he realized that what he had been doing culous by Joseph Zaretski, Demwas harmful to the cause of world peace and that he was sorry that he had taken any part in espionage for the United States.

If Powers has another story upon return to this country it should be made public. Regardless of how he handled his own situation, the U-2 flights gave the free world vital information on Russian missile strength. It is unfortunate that Powers' capture resulted in their suspension.

Perhaps the Powers story points up a weakness in our structure which we must overcome. Have we arrived at the point where nothing matters except our own skins-be they personal, financial or political?

If this is true, we had better take stock of our moral arsenal as well as our material Good News-To Niki

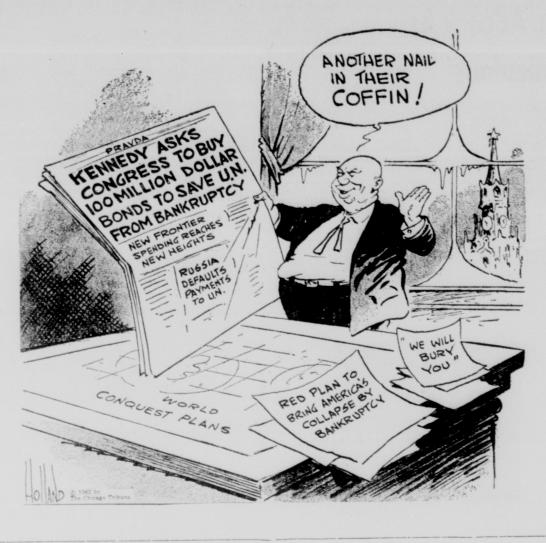

Image Of Autocracy Growing In Kennedy Messages

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON -The last thing the world that President Kennedy probably wants to do is to create the image of an autocracy conveyed by some of his messages to Congress calling for a concentration of power in the exeutive in everything from the fixing of agricultural prices to the authority to go beyond the written law. His subordinantes yond the principles of the constitution itself. Here are some ex-

6. By executive order of the president and without authority from Congress, a company which bids for any government contract now must, in effect, give assurances to the executive department that it will hire an as yet undetermined number of persons from every race or creed or color. This policy was adopted to a limited extent under the preceding administration, but it has been carried even further under the present administration. An official questionnaire has been sent to 38,000 companies - each of which has contracts with the government in excess of $50,000 - asking them to list how many Negroes they employ. Will they next be asked how many of each religion they employ? How many of the 15,500,000 workers involved who have earned their place by merit will be deprived of their jobs to make way for the others?

COERCION

This is obviously a political move in the "civil rights" controversy, but it as also a form of coercion in which the people's money that should be spent only by the award of government conconceivably be spent among contractors who are subservient to the government on political issues but who change higher prices.

The whole theory seems to be "the end justifies the means." It's a doctrine which political bossism has always followed, but in these days when America is boasting abroad about the freedom of the individual in our midst, some of these goings - on died in his little Georgia place away from it all, including his spouse, editors have been bothered by letters inquiring whether he was shot, stabbed or otherwise put to death by external malice. Indeed, some uneasy specimens have wanted assurance that he was, in fact, erst.

This latter minority shares the uncompromising doubt of a similar circle of skeptics who can't believe that Adolf Hitler died in his bunker in Berlin according to the common superstition of knowing mankind. But as to Roosevelt, the fact is that a doctor was on hand and a legal certificate was issued, whereas in Berlin municipal functions were in abeyance. A solemn referendum according to the democratic ideal might quiet the legal doubt. But who of those who might have terminated our own beloved ruler had a feasible chance or motive to do so? Stalin's empire owed its existence to Roosevelt's benevolence. And the American Republicans were all too mannerly and doing too well in war industries, many with impromptu rank of Admiral and General to the great enjoyment of their wives. Doubter

Doubter that I am in most secular mysteries, I must say that I accepted the report as truth when the flash came over the UP apparatus in the local room of the Tucson Citizen.

I met strangers on the streets that day who rolled their heads and murmured, "I can't believe

I must confess now that my colleagues on the press detail at Warm Springs failed badly in this historic matter. It was not until John T. Flynn phoned me a coubody. These employees, including ple of years later that I began to explore a mystery. Mr. Flynn asked tersely if I had a copy of a new book of memoirs, the one by Grace Tully, a pretty lady, who had been a secretary of some degree to our late Mahatma.

Mr. Flynn then referred me to a particular page and line and said?" The lady's name was Mrs. Winthrop Rutherfurd, She was enormously respectable, reasonably rich and a widow with mature children of her own and some established and genteel step children by her late husband. In her late 'teens in the happy Washington social whirl of the First War. she had been a belle with Wallis Warfield, now Duchess of Wind- Fala.

Ever since President Roosevelt sor. She had never before been named in print in any story of Roosevelt's life and death, but now Miss Tully remarked casually that this lady had been present in the little room at Warm Springs with Roosevelt and Mrs. Elizabeth Shumatov, the portrait artist, when our leader was stricken in his brain.

So I began to inquire and I may say that I fell into the common error of New York reporters in failing to consult the phone book. But somewhat later I did bethink me and Mrs. Shumatov was cordial and entertaining. Neither of us could guess why history had failed to note the presence of Mrs. Rutherfurd at FDR's side at that instant in history. But she said that Mike Reilly, of the White House Secret Service detail, hustled both of them and their gear out of the cottage and into Mrs. Rutherfurd's new Packard and on their way to Southern Pines, where Mrs. Rutherfurd had a winter home. She said Mrs. Rutherfurd idolized Roosevelt like a freshman coed in rapture over an old-time varsity hero, a poor simile for Roosevelt, because he had never played any body-contact game in school or college. And by Navy regulations he had no legitimate right to wear the formal Navy cape which was draped over him in his last moment, for it is an honor like a varsity letter which he had awarded himself on his authority as Commander-in-Chief. PRESTIGE

Although the Roosevelts had given Missy LeHand the prestige of rank as the President's secretary, I can think of no ulterior reason why Miss Tully, alone, of all the biographical cult, revealed that Mrs. Rutherfurd was with him, and his wife a thousand miles away, when he died. Long after that, I asked Merriman Smith, the dean of the White House reporters, why none of his bunch had mentioned Mrs. Rutherfurd. Mr. Smith said: "I never heard of her until I read her name in your story." The journalists were up the hill for a burgo or barbecue when God finally said, "Hold, enough

Reilly of the White House failed to answer numerous letters. But, although Roosevelt did not lie in state, I feel competent to allay the fears of those who think he walks on earth. The evil he did lives after him but he himself lies interred with his little mutt,

Insurance Money For Veterans

BY MARTIN E SEGAL

Close to $15 million in GI insurance dividends is waiting them -but if they do not act to make themselves eligible, the money will revert to the government.

About $30 million in such dividends was distributed during the last three months to 400,000 Korean war vets who did qualify for The dividends-averaging about $72 per vet-were paid to holders 'W' type GI insurance policies. Similiar dividends are await ing 200,000 holders of "RS" type policies, as soon as they convert to "W" type.

"RS" insurance was issued to Korean Conflict veterans discharged between April 25, 1951 and Dec. 31, 1956. This insurance is five-year term insurance and is not eligible for dividends.

The new type "W" insurance was made available in January, 1959, and methods of conversion or exchange from "RS" type to 'W'' type were announced at that

So far, only 400,000 Korean war vets have taken advantage of the exchange provision.

MY ANSWER

By BILLY GRAHAM

QUESTION: I notice in your preaching that you make of the Cross. Why is it so important to talk about the Cross which was an ancient method capital punishment? Wouldn't it attract more people to Christianity if you emphasized some of the less repugnant aspects of your faith?

ANSWER: The cross shows how evil men are without God's grace. Christ was crucified, not by criminals but by the "best" people of his day. The cross underscored the vile depths to which human nature can sink. And the "best" today are capable of crucifying Him The cross also revealed the love of God and made clear that His love is unchanging, regardless of our evil. And it showed God's power to change evil to good, to use "wrath of men to praise him," to bring victory out of death. The cross also forms a pattern for Christian living. The ultimate in surrender is to say, 'Not my will, but thine be done, We "live by the faith of the Son of God who loved us and gave himself for us."

In the cross is also the mysterious power of salvation. That is why Paul exclaimed, "I glory in the cross."

About 200,000 veterans of the "RS" type insurance does not Korean War are in danger of los- pay dividends. Neither do "W policies - normally, Both are what are called "non-participating." However, the "RS" policies built up a surplus and by a special act of Congress last September, this surplus is being distrubted to former holders of the "RS" policies who exchanged or converted to "W" policies. They have until September, 1963, to make the change and qualify for this one-time dividend. IN FORCE

The amount of the dividend depends on the amount of the policy and the length of time it has been

The dividend is not the only reason for converting from "RS" to 'W." VA authorities emphasize. Holders of the "RS" policies have to pay an increased premium every five years. That is, the insurance has to be renewed every five years and, since the premium is set by age, the premium for very five-year term is higher than

For example: A Korean war vet now 30 renews his "RS" fiveyear term policy. His premium is $3.80 a year per thousand dollars of insurance ($38.00 for $10,000 face value policy). When he gets to be 35, and has to renew his policy, the premium will be $5.11 a year per thousand ($51.10 for ($0,000); at 40 the premium will be $6.89 per thousand. And at age 65, when most people's incomes drop, this vet's "RS" insurance will be costing him $46.33 a thousand ($463.30 for $10,000). If this same vet converts his 'RS" policy for a "W" policy, his long-range costs will drop sharp-ly. An ordinary life "W" policy will cost him $13.65 a thousand ($136.50 for a $10,000 policy) at age 30. This is a lot higher than the age 30 "RS" premium --but "W" premium will remain the same for the rest of the vet's "W" insurance can also be had in 30-payment, 20-payment, and endowment types.

In addition to having the advantage of a level premium for life, the "W" ordinary life policy will also build up cash value. When the vet-who converts at age 30 - reaches age 60, his 'W'' type ordinary life policy will be worth $522.34 per thousand dollars face value. If he has a $10,-000 policy, he can turn it in then for $5,223.40 in cash. On the other hand, term insurance has no cash

The "RS" policy can also be exchanged for a "W" type term policy at a much lower premium. For example: the "W" type fiveyear term policy at age 30 costs $1.19 a thousand dollars of face value. But this insurance will also increase in price every five years -and it cannot be continued past

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

WHAT CHILDREN WANT FROM PARENTS

One hundred thousand children from the Americas, Australia, India, and 12 European countries were asked what 10 things they would most like their parents to do and not do. Boys and girls between the ages of 8 and 14 were questioned in this international quiz conducted by R. F. Herz, Ph. D., and a British teacher.

The 10 commandments were: 1. Treat all your children with equal affection.

2. There should be comradship between parents and children.

3. Treat your children's friends as welcome visitors in your home. 4. Don't quarrel in front of your children.

5. Mutual tolerance between

6. Never lie to a child. 7. Always answer children's

8. Don't blame or punish your child in the presence of others. 9. Be constant in your affection and moods. 10. Concentrate on the child's good points, not on his failings.

Children the world over have similar needs, feelings, desires, and hopes. On the other hand, they still require (and often want) discipline even tho many parents hate to administer it or are afraid to. Youngsters thrive on love and encouragement but excess or foolish attention weakens their character. Don't be a doting parent.

Childhood is a relatively short period in the life of an individual. Let the youngster live the life of a child at this time rather than treating him like a young adult. Boys and girls grow up only too fast. Encourage them to play rather than to spend hours looking at TV or listening to the radio. Parents and their offspring need not be inseparable. It does the youngsters good to play with older children and to be away from the parents form time to

Eight suspects were held in the Monroe jail following a series of shootings during which a grocery store owner was killed and two other persons seriously wounded.

An officer and 24 enlisted men from the Monroe National Guard unit were assigned to levee patrols along the swollen Mississip-

French Premier Leon Blum called for international control of arms and men from other countries entering Spain to fight in the Spanish Civil War.

West Monroe police are investi gating the burglary of a church on Cypress street. According to officials the First Assembly of God Church at 715 Cypress St., West Monroe, was entered although nothing seems to be missing from the church. Entrance to the building was gained by climbing through a window on the side of the church. Officers said the party or persons apparently wandered through out the building but failed to take anything at all.

Ike's Letter On Censoring Made Public

WASHINGTON (AP) - Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, in a letter to Senate investigatmade public Wednesday, called the uninhibited censoring of top-level officials' speeches "something belittling".

His letter, placed in evidence by the special Armed Services investigating subcommittee, elaborated on one he had written previously suggesting that "top-level" Pentagon personnel be permitted to use their own best judgment in phrasing their speeches and be held responsible for their words.

His original letter acknowledged that this was a switch from the policy he had followed as Presient, that speech clearance was andatory.

The subcommittee had asked the former President to explain whom he meant by "top-level"

His new letter, dated Jan. 30, listed the secretary and deputy secretary of defense, the secretaries and undersecretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force and five members of the Joint Thiefs of Staff.

There are doubtless others in this broad category," Eisenhower "Such people, if have good judgment, will have their public remarks carefully studied prior to utterance, competent staffs to protect against inadvertent errors.

The only witness as the subcommittee resumed its hearings into charges that Pentagon censorship has "muzzled" anti-Communist speeches by military men was Gen. George H. Decker, Army chief of staff. The other rembers of the joint chiefs had testified earlier.

Decker said he does not object to censors' reviewing his speeches-"I consider it helpful." general added, however, that he was disappointed by changes made in some of his speeches to 'accommodate the policy requirements of other agencies.

Shell Houses Fast Growing Industry

featured unless otherwise indicated.)

NEW YORK (UPI) - The shell house, stepsister of the homebuilding business, shows signs of coming into its own. With volume up from $5 million in 1955 to $75 million last year, it has been predicted that hell housing - buying an unfinished house and completing it yourself-may well become the biggest and fastest - growing development in the housing field. In 1961, there were 100,000 shell homes built, or about eight percent of the nation's annual housing production. But this segment of the industry has been the target of much criticism, largely be cause of some questionable financing practices associated with it and because the buyer may bite off more than he can chew. Now there are indications the objectionable features of shell housing are being worked out. It seems likely that FHA may downgrade requirements somewhat to make financing available for more shells and there is increasing emphasis in the industry itself on the semi - finished rather than the bare-bones shell.

W. Hamilton Crawford, board chairman and president of the Crawford Corp., Baton Rouge, La., a leader in the manufactured home industry, feels the shell home buyer is entitled to: -Equitable, easily obtained financing. -A livable shell that enables a family to move in right away and save months of rent payments-money which can be spent more profitably on finishing the ssociated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP)—A hefty bid of $10 million or even more was expected to be made in the National Collegiate Athletic Association today for the rights to televise Saturday afternoon college football games for the next two The Associated Press learned today.

The bids will be made by "all interested parties", generally regarded to mean the three major broadcasting networks. Each will submit its price to the NCAA television committee in a sealed envelope, and there will be no chance to change them once sub-

The committee was expected to award the contract late this afternoon after the bids are opened in private session and considered. The American Broadcasting

Co., which is expected to get stiff competition from the National Broadcasting Co., will try to retain the prize sportscasting plum it has held for the past two years. ABR paid over $6 million for the rights for 1960-61.

A darkhorse bidder is the Columbia Broadcasting System, which just recently signed to televise all of the National Football League games in a $9.3 millions package. A successful bid by CBS would be a major coup for it would enable the network to tie up two-thirds of the major football broadcasting.

But NBC is expected to pull all stops to get the games, since it has no football television at all, with the exception of some post season games. It lost the NFL rights to the games of Baltimore be no object in the network's de- Northeast Louisiana State baseball team. sire to bid successfully.

Gulf puts super-premium gasoline qualities in New No-Nox gasoline ... at no advance in price.

New No-Nox is the finest premium gasoline you can buy, no matter what car you drive.

The most advanced high-compression engines thrive on New No-Nox -engines that could formerly use only extra-priced, super-premium gasoline.

New No-Nox contains the same costly additives up to now used only in superpremium Gulf Crest. These Crest additives are the ones that help maintain cleanengine performance and power. That's why New No-Nox adds to spark-plug life and saves so much in engine servicing.

Super-premium buyers: This means New No-Nox saves you money on every gallon you buy.

Premium gasoline buyers: Gulf's New No-Nox costs you no more than before, but it gives you more for your gasoline dollar-improved performance as well as substantial long-run economy.

Whatever premium or super-premium gasoline you've been buying, it will be well worth your while to try Gulf's New No-Nox - the premium gasoline with the superpremium extras to lower your cost of driving.

Announcing Of Hotel Mix Premature

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) Spokesmen for the Nashville Student Nonviolent Movement announced Wednesday night the color barrier had been broken at a fashionable downtown hotel. But their announcement turned out to be premature.

The claim was made after two white youths, accompanied by a Negro, entered a room at the Hermitage Hotel. They were in the room only briefly before the management asked them to leave.

The youths were identified as Richard Momeyer, 19, and Peter Schwartz, 18, white, both of Meadville, Pa., and John Lewis, 21, Negro, of Nashville, all students at Fisk University

Richard Hall, hotel manager, said the trio gave up the room at his request. He said Momeyer, who signed the register, told him "there were two more in his party. He did not say one was a

A group of Negroes, who were staging a sit-in at the nearby Andrew Jackson Hotel, rushed to the Hermitage and up side stairs in an apparent attempt to enter Momeyer's room. But they arrived too late.

Demonstrations against the segregated policies of the two hotels is a rather recent development in the nonviolent movement here. Last Saturday, Momeyer, Schwartz and Lewis were among five students arrested during a sit-in at a downtown restaurant They were charged by the management with conspiring to commit acts which would injure

Baseball Star Told Divorce Paper Phony

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - A startled Willie Mays has been told that a Mexican divorce recently obtained by his wife is worthless.

Superior Court Judge Joseph Karesh advised the $90,000 a year San Francisco Giants' outfielder Wednesday the divorce was not 'worth the paper it's printed on.'

"And if you want to remarryand I encourage marriages trust you don't rely on that Mexican divorce," the jurist added.

Marghuerite Mays, now in New York, obtained the divorce last month in Juarez. Judge Karesh granted Mrs. Mays a separate maintenance agreement last sum-

Judge Karesh, who advised Mays to file a cross-complaint here, charged that his order against each party's filing for divorce outside of his jurisdiction had been violated.

If Marghuerite comes back to California, I can hold her in contempt. And you, Willie, since you apparently aided and abetted the flaunting of the order are liable for contempt, too," said the judge.

The jurist discontinued part of the order requiring Mays to pay $600 a month in support to Mar ghuerite. However, Mays must still pay $400 a month to the couple's adopted son, Michael, 3. The Mexican divorce requires Mays to pay $15,000 a year in alimony and child support. Mays was also ordered to pay the $3,500 in lawyer's fees here. He wrote the check in front of the judge and handed it to the at-

RANK DIMARCO, left, about four-years-old, and Celia DiMarco, about two-and-a half, were left in the care of a babysitter in a hotel room in Los Angeles, a year ago by their mother who has not been seen since. The mother who gave the name Lisa Di-Marco checked into the hotel and engaged a sitter so she could visit a bus station to pick up their luggage. She returned and left again and has not been seen since. Eventually the children were placed in a foster home as wards of the county. But their future is uncertain. They can't be adopted until the mystery of their mother's disppearance is cleared up. (AP Wirephoto)

There you will find the real explanation of the new Common Market in Europe—an explanation of the viewpoint of American history.

Provision 2 says . . "No state shift lay any impost or duties on imports or exports" without the consent of Congress. cle gave Congress sole power tory—a partnership which he said egulate commerce among the would outstrip the Communist-bloc economy for all time.

Many factors contributed to the greatness of America—its po-litical freedom; its natural resources; its elevation of the merchant to the level of the aristocrat; its pioneering spirit.

But the important one was that provision of the Constitution which made trade free in the vastness of the new country.

For here is what it meant: When am ambitious, budding in-dustrialist wanted to plan a fac-tory, he could build on the hope of selling to all Americans freely, not just those within his own state. If he were faced with tariff barriers athwart a state line he would have to lower his sights; to build only for a limited few.

Because he had hopes of a large, mass market, he could easily attract investment capital from Europe where restrictions from country to country inhibited such development.

Hence, the mass-production capacity of America could never have been achieved if small competing plants had to be built in each state, each state protected its own industries with high tariff

The European Common Market is now, in effect, adopting that trade provision. If things go right over the next few years down will come all trade barriers within the Common Market nations. There are six now. There probably will be nine in the near future.

Up will go the mass-market available to modern merchant princes. And it won't take generations for the market economy to equal that of the United States, if ll goes well.

American industrialists will be avidly seeking a share of that market. President Kennedy says they will either build plants here, and ship to Europe to meet the preparing any budget is diffito work in a vacation.

Budget No Waltz To Prepare National

By EDWARD COWAN United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Just as other leading lights of the Kenne-administration were plunging into the swirl of a new session of Congress, tall, boyish David E. Bell breathed a sigh of relief and took a short vacation.

No slacker, Bell was entitled to a respite - which lasted all of five working days - because he had just finished the herculean task of assembling President Kennedy's first top-to-bottom budget for running the government.

That task had occupied Bell's days and evenings, including most weekends, for three months. It had steeped him in the affairs of virtually every agency in the executive branch of government. It had led him through a staggering maze of statistics and dollar

Such is the annual ordeal of the director of the budget - a $22,-500-a-year job Bell has held since he joined the exodus from Harvard at the start of the Kennedy administration

Compiling the budget, which goes to Congress every January is mostly an autumnal labor. Preparatory work is done earlier in the year, but the real grind begins after Labor Day.

Yet from January to September it is no waltz for the budget boss. Working days - including every Saturday for Bell - are crammed with staff meetings, White House conferences, testimony before congressional committees, speeches out of town and seeing "visitors" -old friends, reporters, agency heads, congressmen, officials of foreign governments and non-government experts.

Thus, the days are as busy as ever for the budget directoreven out of season. Happily, Bell said in an interview, things are different at night. A little different anyway. The taxing regimen of after-dinner conferences, which Bell detests, is over.

"You can do that for a while, but only for a while," he said. "I try to get out by 7 p.m. now, although I usually take work home with me." If night work is inescapable, Bell prefers to do it at home in the company of his rife, his daughter, Susan, 17, just admitted to Radcliffe College) and his son, Peter, 13, an

Outside World Is Watching Soviet Union

EDITORS NOTE: For the last three weeks the outside world has been watching and wondering what is going on inside the Sov-iet Union. Is the cold war about to take a sharp turn for better or for worse? United Press International assigned a three-man team to seek the answers to the riddles posed by the Kremlin. It consisted of Henry Shapiro, UPI Moscow manager and dean of American correspondents in Russia; K. C. Thaler, chief diplomatic correspondent for UPI; and Harry Ferguson, European news manager. The team assembled in London where the following dispatch was written.

LONDON (UPI) - There are four mysteries today about Russia and the men who rule it They have brought Western and neutral diplomats to a fever of excitement on the theory that 'something is going on inside the

On the basis of extensive reporting and research in Moscow and the other European capitals we can furnish fairly firm answers to three of the mysteries. On the other one we are like a man walking down an unmarked unmapped road of steep hills and sharp curves. We can only guess where it leads. The four myster-

NEW BAKING PROCESS GIVES BREAD THAT WONDERFUL CAKE TEXTURE

The Wonder Bakers have it! . . . a bread so tender, so creamy-smooth in texture that it has no holes-looks like cake! And it tastes just great!

The secret's in the way it's made. By a special process, Wonder's ingredients are whirled and spun and blended into silky smoothness . . . the way a master baker makes cake. The result: a bread with smooth texture-no holes! And that means no jelly, jam and catsup drips on tablecloths or children's clothes.
